Ian Waller
Managing Director
FiveBarGate Consultants Ltd

FiveBarGate is led by Ian Waller, a recognised expert in bio-energy with a networked team of associates, capable of delivering a broad range of skills, experience and resource as required by a specific assignment. The business advises clients at all stage of the bio-energy supply chain, from crop growth to final energy use.

Assignments vary in nature from due diligence advice on investments, through market assessments to supply chain or technology reviews and implementing business systems, including sustainability assurance as required to meet international regulations.

Ian Waller also has an interest in Farming Footprints Ltd, an on line carbon calculator for land based commodities and other similar digital passport technologies for BioEnergy supply chains.
